JOE LEITER AND HOADLEY BEATEN

Jury Returns a Verdict for $80,241 Against Them.

The jury in the trial before Justice Amend, in the Supreme Court, of the suit of Brokers Franklin, Scott & Co. against Joseph H. Hoadley, Joseph Leiter and Cyrus Field Judson to recover $65,800 alleged balance on a deal in International Power Company stock, today brought in a verdict. The juron decided that $80,241.27 is due the brokers. Hoadley and Leiter will have to pay ! all, as Judson is penniless, Hoadley and Leiter formed a pool in 1900, taking in Judson for his society connections. They say the pool was concluded Dec. 11, 1901. Judson failed April 30, 1902. He had acted as financial man for the pool, his accounts with brokers being "Judson special." He says the pool still existed April 29, when this transaction, which led to the suit, was concluded.

concluded.

Houdley's lawyer declared this and other suits to be a "combination or conspiracy to force Hoadely and Leiter to make good Judson's $1,000,000 debts."

Hoadley testified that Judson got $1,000,000 worth of stock from him to use as collateral on his constant statement that he was going to get. Col. John Jacob Astor, Cornehus Vanderbit, John R. Drexel and other weki-known millionaires into International Power, like lambkins.

miliforalizes into International Power, like lambkins.

When the bubble burst, International Power dropped from 198 to 98 per share. Hoadley said Judson "confessed" to him and his brother that he had "stolen" this block of stock. Hoadley swore that he lost $3,000,000 through swore that s own block of stock.

The verdict was the result of six and a half hours' deliberation by the jury after a trial lasting nineteen days, following three years of preliminary skirmishing in which Edmund Luis Mooney, the young attorney for William B. Judson's Denial.

Mr. Judson denied that he stole anything from Hoadley, or that he every "confessed" anything of the kind, and his attorney declared that the statement that he had no connection with Hoadley was signed by Judson under threats to have him arrested.

Justice Amend awarded an extra allowance of $1,000 to Edmund L. Mooney and denied a mosition for a new trial, but gave the numerous counsel for Hoadley sixty days' stay of execution of the $80,000 judgment and ninety days in which to frame an appeal to the higher court.

The cause of the three points drop yesterday in the quotation for American Hide and Leather preferred stock became apparent when the directors to-day voted to pass the dividend. This preferred stock, of which there is $12,-948,300 listed on the Exchange, is entitled to 7 per cent cumulative dividends when earlied. A third dividend of 1 per cent, was declared on the 25th of last July, each and the rest for general college use.
